

moana and the tribe

P.O Box 78 074, Grey Lynn, Auckland, New Zealand
AUDIO SPECIFICATIONS

Moana & the Tribe are essentially an acoustic act, with a strong emphasis on vocals. The group is anchored by a bass player and guitarist, with additional C.D programming running alongside some tracks, and managed onstage by the bassist. Moana is the lead vocalist, and is backed by two female vocalists.

A traditional Maori flautist / percussionist / rapper / breakdancer stands to the rear right of the lead vocalist. He requires a dancing space in front of him of approximately 2m to 3m square and provides his own breakdancing mat when necessary.

2-3 kapa haka performers vocalise collectively or individually throughout the set. Their volume fluctuates quite wildly according to which traditional vocal style they utilise.

Throughout the set, a series of moving visual images are continuously projected onto a huge video screen at stage rear or side.

Preferred stage size: 18m x 12m

Moana & the Tribe require a P.A system complete with monitors.
